PRESS RELEASE

“DOUBLE CROSSED: THE SAGA OF THE ST. LOUIS” WRITTEN AND PERFORMED BY DAVID GONZALEZ

“I absolutely loved this powerful and beautifully crafted play. Our audiences were unanimously enthusiastic!”
Director of Public Programs – United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.

Commissioned by the Smithsonian Institution and performed in Washington at the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, “Double Crossed: The Saga of the St. Louis” is a multi-media, virtuoso-performance by New York writer/actor/composer, David Gonzalez, who recreates powerfully and poetically the tragic yet heroic voyage of 937 European Jews seeking haven in a fallen world of anti-Semitism.

“Double Crossed: The Saga of the St. Louis” is available for live-presentation at theaters, cultural arts centers and local colleges or may be offered as a performance/lecture – a mix of live performance, video presentation, poetry reading and audience Q & A with Dr. Gonzalez.

The video of “Double Crossed” is now available for sale in museum shops and distribution catalogs. Individual copies may also be purchased.

To bring the play or lecture/performance to your area or to order videos of “Double Crossed: The Saga of the St. Louis”, please contact:
